D. C. La Rue's PANOPPICON OF THE WAR IN Ispla - This entertainment, at Montgomery Hall last night, was a brilliant attraction, witnessed by a delighted and fashionable audience; among the visiters were the Montgomery Guards, commanded by Capt. Tunner. We are in earnest in the belief that our citienzs will, throughout a highly suucessful season, fall in love with and steadfastly admire this charming and novel exhibition. It was rapturouslyapplauded last evening. We cannot des- not ashamed. cribe it, for it is unlike anything we ever saw. Its base is a finely painted panorama of an Indian landscape, and views of oriental cities and of one of its editors, Mr. T. H. Hopper to Miss fortresses, the scene of the Sepoy rebellion -Then, upon this landscape, come motley figures of men, and steeds, and feats of war. They march, they attack and defend, blaze with cannon, rattle with musketry, and all in an exceedingly life-like manner, with an effect almost magical. We advise our readers to see the Panopticon at Montgomery Hall. It will be repeated to night, and to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Warekones system.

The Tariff Bill was taken up.

Mr. Hunter opposed it, contending that the revenue from public lands and the present tariff is sufficient to carry on the government if properly administered.

Mr. Simmons supported the bill, arguing for the abolition of the wareboasing system, which was loaing the Gavernment a million a year.

The Senate went into executive session.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Mr. Stanton called attention to the report of Saturday's debate, saying Cox was therein represented as saying what he had not uttered here.

Mr. Cox explained, that he had allowed Mr. Hutchias to insert a parsgraph, at the latter's request.

Mr. Stanton deprecated such a course, saying it placed him in a position of having allowed Mr. Cox to make a remark without replying, and continued in some severe remarks as to Cox's proceedings.

Mr. Cox defended himself, saying his remarks about Mr. Giddings were in reference to the successor of Mr. Giddings.

Mr. Cox defended himself, saying his remarks about Mr. Glodings were in reference to the successor of Mr. Glodings.

Considerable debate on the subject ensued, by Messrs. Stanton, Cox and Hutchins.

The Pacific Railroad bill was then considered. The amendment that the central route shall go by Ft. Riley, from the mouth of the Kansas river, was stricken out.

The report of the committee of 33 was taken up.

Mr. Campbell said if the forts and arsenals be returned, he would listen to the complaints and furnish a remedy. He argued that the territorial question should be settled by the admission of New Mexico, and favored the proposition of the committee.

Mr. Howard, from the select committee of five. submitted a report as to the alieded conspiracy. The committee say if the purpose was at any time entertained of forming an orranization to select the District of Columbia, or attack the Capitel, to prevent the insuguration of Mr. Lincoln, it seems to have been rendered centingent upon the secession of Maryland and Virginia, and a he sanction of, one of them, certain. Organizations in this District and the State of Maryland that, prior to the cleeton, seemed to be open, political clubs have since assumed the character of military organizations, and are now engaged in dtilling, and expect to provide themselves it harms, some from State authorities, and others by private subscriptions. But so far as the committee are able to learn their purposes, while they sympathized strongly with secession, there is no proof that they intended to attack either the Capitol or the district, unless a surrender should be demanded by the State to which they provides a high degree of allegiance.

Some of these companies in Baitimore professed to be drilling for the sole purpose of preventing other military companies from passing through the State of Maryland. Whether these representations are correct or not, the Committee failed to discover satisfactory evidence that they have any purpose, they are in no proper sense secret and are not the ment.

The Committee submit all the evidence, and sak that the same and the report be printed, and the Committee.

ischarged. Mr Branch submitted his views, concurring entirely with the majority.

He says is appears from the testimony of Gen. Scott that? companies of srillery, and one of sappers and miners, have been ordered to and quartered in the city, under the mistaken belief that the public property was in danger, and asks the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the quartering of troops of the reguiar army in this District, and around the Capitol, when not necessary for their protection from a hostile enemy and during session of Congress, is impolitie, and may become destructive of civil liberty; and in the opinion of become destructive of civil liberty; and in the opinion of the House the regular troops now in it ought to be forth-with removed therefrom.

Mr. Branch demanded the previous question.
Debate followed, when Mr. Dawes wanted to know how it could be a minority report, when the majority report was unanimously agreed to.

Mr. Branch claimed the right to make a personal ex-placation.

Mr. Dawes said the reason the committee was unable Mr. Dawes said the reason the committee was unable to prove the existence of a conspiracy was because the presence of the troops prevented its ripening into fruition. He moved to table Mr. Branch's resolution.

Mr. Branch remarked that his resolution was sanctioned by no other member of the committee, his name alone signed the minority report; the reason was the majority report did not go far enough.

Mr. Cochrane deprecated as much as any lover of civil and religious liberty the gathering of an armed force, but the evidence showed that there was danger at one period.

Mr. Kunkel was satisfied that the whole inquisition wint can be so easily obtained. Arrival of the President Elect at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 14—The President elect and party left Columbus at 8 this merning, the train in charge of Austant Superinteedent Layng. In spite of the rein, numbers had collected in the depot, who bid Mr. Lincoin adieu. At Newark, Frazzysburg. Dresden, Coshocton, Newcomeratown, and Uricksville, large crowds of iadles and gentlemen had collected, notwiths standing the pelting rain. The train stopped at Cadis Junetion, where an elegant dinner was provided by Mrs. T. L. Jewett, wife of the President of the Steubenville and Indiana Railroad. Mr. Jewett was invited and accompanied the train; also the Steubenville committee.

Strongeville.—The rain had ceased, and there was a beautiful demonstration by about 5,000 people. Amid the firing of cannon, Mr. Lincoin ascended the stage and was welcomed by Judge Lloyd. Mr. Lincoin reponded briedy. He said he feared that great confidence in his abilities was unfounded. The place I am about to assume is encompassed by vast difficulties. As I am, nothing shall be wanting on my part; unless sustaised by the American people and God. I cannot hope to be successful. I believe the devotion to the Constitution is equally great on both sides of the river; it is only the different understandings of it. The only dispute is what are their right; I fit he majority should not rule, who should be the judge? When such a judge is found, we must be all bound by his decision. That judge is the majority of the American people; if not, then the minority must control. Would that he right; just, or generous? Assuredly not. He reterrated that the majority should rule. If he adopted a wrong policy, the opportunity to condemn it would occur in four years; then I can be turned out, and a better man, with better views, put in my pisce. The time being up, the speech was cut short.

proposed three cheers for the Union as it is, which were given with a will.

and then be secorted by the military through both eithes.

ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Inputary or class of complaints arising from Industry or THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul cruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will fell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sursaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been severiously described by reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla.

or any thing else.

During late years the public have been mis-During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsapa-rilla, but often no curative properties whatev-er. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for lieving it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete cradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on PREPARED BY
